

Goodman's Improv Brainstorm #1

What did you like about Peter Leidy's improv-for-life training?

I liked how adding the “yes, and” structure to a quick brainstorming exercise makes it really useful — and worth doing again...

Yes, and his delivery was engaging and personalized.

Yes, and it was fun being part of such an interactive session.

Yes, and I like how much emphasis was put on validating other people and their ideas.

Yes, and his bright personality gave a positive and cheerful feel to the room.

Yes, and thanks for making the time fly by.

Yes, and thanks for giving us tools that to help us show our respect for each other.

Yes, and he encouraged and made it easy for everyone to participate.

Yes, and I can imagine how these tools will help us end up with even better solutions to problems.

Yes, and I liked how many ideas we came up with for helping make new staff — and old — feel more welcome.

Yes, and I hope we can find a way to share this with all our whole staff.

Yes, and It would be great if we can make this a core part of our Goodman culture.

Yes, and I was able to put to use the “yes, and” statement twice already today!

Yes, and the training was beneficial for both our professional and our personal lives.

Yes, and It was a really engaging and thought provoking (and fun) training.

Thanks, Peter!

We appreciate what you did for us — and what you do for our community every day.
