

Peter Leidy

Supporting Each Other to Discover Our Best Work

January 6, 2016

10am -3pm

GSU – 25 Park Place

Subbasement/Conference Room 12

Co-sponsored by:

People being supported need to be heard and respected. And direct support professionals and those who supervise them need to be heard and respected in their work environment – or else the quality of support declines. Good teams lead to good support.

This is an opportunity to explore how to staying person-centered while recognizing the gifts that paid supporters bring to their work, and how everyone benefits when we listen, collaborate, and celebrate with each other. Add in some humor and music, and by the end we think you'll feel this was time worth spending together!

Peter Leidy has been learning from people with disabilities since 1983. Peter is a consultant, facilitator, listener, learner, improviser, and speaker who focuses on personalized supports and community membership for people with disabilities. He also writes and sings songs about human serviceland and those who find themselves connected to it.

Based in Wisconsin, Peter works throughout the United States and Canada.
